Hi Majedul

Are you able to build something like Alibaba on Wordpress? If not, are you able to do it as a custom site?

What is your estimated timeline and costs for this?

Please share a website of anything similar you have done before.

Regards
Anje

This message relates to:

I will do full stack website development, full stack web developer, front end developer

Me Sep 24, 2024, 9:58 PM

Hello there,

Thank you for contacting me. As an experienced website developer, I would be happy to assist you in creating a website similar to Alibaba. Since it will be a large-scale website, using a platform like WordPress may not be efficient or flexible enough. Therefore, I propose building your website with custom coding using MERN stack technologies.

Here are a few of my previous project:

<https://themebeyond.com/html/venam/?storefront>
<https://html.rdevs.net/roiser/?storefront>
<https://htmlbeans.com/html/botanical/home.html?storefront>

Before I send you a quote I would like to learn more about your project such as do you have any design ideas or Figma files for your project.

Looking forward to working with you.

M mulberryblue Sep 24, 2024, 10:00 PM
I'm learning now only what Figma is

Me Sep 24, 2024, 10:03 PM

No worries! I also have an experienced Figma designer who specializes in website design. If you're interested, we can create a Figma design for you before we start the website development work.

Please let me know if this works for you!

M mulberryblue Sep 24, 2024, 10:03 PM
I'm not sure what figma is.. haha.

M mulberryblue Sep 24, 2024, 10:03 PM
Trying to watch a video on it

M mulberryblue Sep 24, 2024, 10:04 PM
What is figma?

 Me Sep 24, 2024, 10:05 PM

Figma is a powerful design tool that allows us to create high-quality, interactive prototypes for your website. It's a powerful design tool that allows us to create high-quality, interactive prototypes for your website.

M mulberryblue Sep 24, 2024, 10:10 PM

Okay nice, where do we get started

Me Sep 24, 2024, 10:13 PM

First, we will create a prototype for your website based on your requirements, incorporating similar features to those found on Alibaba. Once we finalize the prototype, we will proceed with the actual web development.

Let me know how does it sounds. I am waiting for your response.

M mulberryblue Sep 24, 2024, 10:15 PM

Okay cool what are the timelines and your fees?

 Me Sep 24, 2024, 10:20 PM

Do you need the website to have all the same features and functionalities as Alibaba? This includes every page, feature, and aspect of the site, or are there specific elements that are more important to you?

Understanding the key functionalities will help us scope the project accurately and tailor it to your needs.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

M mulberryblue Sep 24, 2024, 10:25 PM

Nope

Here are the main functions needed:

1. Multivendor marketplace for listings
2. We charge vendors a subscription fee monthly
3. Various different subscription packages
4. Payment gateway plugin integration
5. Chat function between vendors and buyers
6. Clean and attractive frontend
7. Vendor dashboard with statistics

- 7. Vendor dashboard with statistics
- 8. Maps integration
- 9. Jetpack or other backup integration
- 10. Limited devices to log in with per vendor account

Me Sep 24, 2024, 10:29 PM

Well, Are you available for a quick call to discuss the project and finalize the details?

Mulberryblue Sep 25, 2024, 1:32 AM

Which details would you like to finalize?

Mulberryblue Sep 25, 2024, 1:32 AM

We don't have timeline or cost estimates yet

Me Sep 25, 2024, 14:7 AM

Well, I will build your website as per your mentioned functions and take it inspirations website Alibaba.

This project aims to build a seamless, user-friendly website by first prioritizing the visual design, followed by the technical implementation. The two phases will be structured as follows:

UI Design (Phase 1): In this phase, we will focus on creating a captivating and intuitive user interface for your website researching your competitors, and following your branding and sketch on Figma. This is the stage where we will define the look and feel of the website, ensuring it aligns with your brand identity and user experience expectations.

Development (Phase 2): After the UI design is approved, we will proceed to the development phase with Custom coding using (MERN STACK). Here, we will bring the design to life by building the website, integrating necessary functionalities, and ensuring it is ready for deployment.

For this entire task, I'll charge you $5800 (USD) and complete it within the next 40-50 days after your confirmation.

How does it sound?

Let me know your thoughts.

Me Sep 25, 2024, 10:16 PM

Hello there,

I was wondering if you had a chance to see my proposal.

I'm highly interested to working with you. If you have any concerns please share them with me. I'm here to assist you.

I'll be waiting for your further response.

Mulberryblue Sep 27, 2024, 8:54 PM

Hi Majedul, we have received your offer and trust that you are competent to complete the task and offer support on a long term basis.

However, that is far above budget for us. Our budget was $1,500.

I am sure your skillset is well worth the investment! However, unaffordable for us at this stage. For now, we will go with a less experienced developer to cut on costs.

Thank you!

Me Sep 27, 2024, 9:50 PM

Thank you for your feedback regarding the budget. I completely understand the constraints you're facing.

I genuinely believe that my expertise could add significant value to your project. If there's any possibility to increase the budget slightly, it would really help us collaborate effectively and ensure you receive the quality support you need for long-term success.

I'm eager to explore how we can make this work together.

Thank you for considering!

Best,
Majedul

Me Sep 28, 2024, 6:58 PM

Hello Mulberry,

I hope you are doing well. As you have budget constraints for your project, I would suggest an alternative approach. Instead of building the website using the MERN stack, which might be more costly, we can switch to WordPress.

I can recommend a few premium themes that you would need to purchase, and we would need to work strictly within the framework of the selected theme. This will keep the project more cost-effective and within budget.

Here are a few relevant themes that I can use to build your website:

<https://motta.ux.store/home-v3/>
<https://kibtheme.com/beves/>
<https://avimart.boostifythemes.com/market-grocery/>

Please let me know if this works for you

Thank you.
